Two weeks to go!

The Person-centred Cultures Development Programme is open for applications but closes on 25 June, which is only two weeks away.

I'm sure all of us know at least one nurse or midwife who is passionate about creating a person-centred culture within their workplace – someone who wants the best for their team and the people who use their services. This fully funded opportunity is designed for that person!

Underpinned by the Person-centred Practice Framework (McCormack and McCance, 2020), this programme benefits from FoNS's immense experience in facilitation of learning and understanding of culture change in the health and social care sector.

The transformative nature of FoNS's programmes can be seen in 'Our Stories'.

Last drop in session will be held online using MS Teams. No need to book, just come along.
